

COMING TO A CITY NEAR YOU

In the midst of a global food, energy and climate crisis more and more people are challenging the destructive industrialized agricultural model by constructing local and regional alternatives with a vision for food sovereignty worldwide.

SOYBEAN WARS: MILITARIZATION, AGRIBUSINESS EXPLOITATION AND COMMUNITY RESISTANCE IN PARAGUAY

CHICAGO

September 20-23

MINNEAPOLIS

September 24-26

WASHINGTON D.C

September 27-30

NEW YORK CITY

October 1-2

BURLINGTON, VERMONT

October 3-5

PHILADELPHIA, PENNSYLVANIA

October 6-7

Come hear directly from Leticia Galeano, an inspiring young leader from the Movimiento Agrario y Popular (a peasant organization in the department of Caaguazú) and university student in Asuncion, Paraguay.

Leticia will speak about militarization in Paraguay, criminalization of social movements, local resistance to soy expansion and about the role of U.S. agribusiness giants like ADM, Bunge and Cargill in the soybean wars.

LETICIA GALEANO WILL BE JOINED BY ADDITIONAL SPEAKERS AT EACH EVENT.

For more information please contact Lorena Rodriguez at lorena@tradejusticecampaign.org or (612)840-9540 or Andrea Samulon at andrea@ran.org or (415) 659-0540

Sponsored By: Georgetown University, Student Trade Justice Campaign, Rainforest Action Network, School of Americas Watch, Institute for Policy Studies, International Labor Rights Fund, and the Washington Office on Latin America.

